NUMBER 48

The People's Column

Somebody please tell us:

When a body has been raised by a good old Missouri Democrat, who married a man who was raised by a good old Missouri Democrat, who moves to Texas and expects to be a perfectly honest Democrat, how can they be expected to vote for the said Democratic party when they are first handed a ticket with the name of Jim Ferguson then Miriam Ferguson, and now Al Smith? Said confused voter lived six years in New York and knows Tammany politics too well to accept any program of that tribe. Somebody do tell.

Two Of Hardest Diamond Battles Here This Week

COLLEGE STATION, April 18. Two of the hardest diamond battles of the season are expected at Kyle Field Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21, when Coach Bob Countryman's Texas Aggies meet the Texas Longhorn charges of Coach Billy Disch in what many believe may be the deciding games of the conference race.

The Aggies are handicapped in the title race in that their schedule calls for four games less than that of the Longhorns and it is likely that their pennant hopes hang on their ability to do more than split with the Longhorns in the four games between the two teams. This factor coupled with the ancient rivalry between the teams promises games that will be of more than usual interest.

The Aggies have more veterans on their hurling staff than any other team in the conference. However, they will probably find some difficult opposition in Dobbs and Ralston, twirlers of the Longhorn staff. The Aggie heavy hitters will face one of the strongest twirlers in the conference when they face Ralston, who last week hurled a no-hit, no run game against the T. C. U. Horned Frogs.

The hitting strength of the two teams is fairly well matched with the Aggies having the edge over their ancient rivals if there is any difference. "Bubba" Blount, stellar second baseman for the Aggies, is probably the most dangerous hitter on the team. He accounted for three of the Aggie five runs in the first game against the Mustangs last week when he drove out a double and a home run, scoring a man ahead of him each time. Joel Hunt, Sikes, Bernhard, and Dittman are among others who have led the Aggie batting attack thus far in the season. Three Aggie batters, Hunt, Broiles and Blount, have made circuit drives this season.

Captain Hiram Broiles, who has been handicapped with an injured leg during the past two weeks, and Homer Childers, first baseman who has been nursing an injured ankle, will both be ready for action against the Longhorns. The Aggie outfielders have been shifted about to a great extent during the past two weeks. Broiles, who patrolled center field at the opening of the season, played left field in the first game against the Mustangs but went back to his old place in the second game. Conover, who until last week played left field, played center in the first Mustang game and in the second was shifted to right field. His work on both days was the best in the outer garden that has been seen on the Aggie diamond this year.

Texas Women To Demand Equal Representation

The women of Texas will demand equal representation among Texas delegates at large to the Democratic National Convention, according to Mrs. W. E. Spell of Waco, first vice chairman of the "Democrats of Texas."

She said that the majority of the women in Texas are against the nomination of Al Smith for the presidency, but they are staunchly loyal to the party pledge and would vote for Governor Smith if he were nominated at the Houston convention.

She said Governor Dan Moody is more popular with the women of Texas than he has ever been and that they admire his courage and his ability.

"All over the state I have found that the majority of women have confidence in Dan Moody," she said. "They feel safe with Dan Moody—and that's the big thing to the women."

Mrs. Spell, who was a delegate at large to the San Francisco convention, said the women want "a fair pro rata" of the delegates at large. Texas has four votes from delegates at large, but it is very possible that eight delegates will be sent to the convention, according to Mrs. Spell.

After the first lap of the big race has been brought to a close on Saturday night, the extra credits will drop from Triple to double, figuratively speaking and never again will subscriptions count as they do right now.

Dear Shoppers:

I have lived in Texas much too long to make prophecies in regard to the weather; but whether Winter stays or Summer comes our advertisers have everything you will need for every day needs and comforts.

Those of us who are using gas have found it "mighty comfortable" these cool mornings and evenings; but we know that "it won't be long now" until an electric fan will be more to our liking. Our advice is: Do your Summer shopping early; and if you will spend one April day looking for what you want, you will likely find it right here in Bryan.

We have been reliably informed that there are some more interesting weddings on the list, and graduation and commencement season are only a little way out on the calendar. Let's anticipate all the requirements of these events, and at least know just where we may find things when we decide to buy.

Bryan merchants have well selected stocks in every line of merchandise, shop around to your heart's delight.

Yours for better shopping service, NELL BENTLEY.

"The pink of perfection" is a term far too limited to express the beauty of corsages and all the other specially arranged pieces that will make up the floral array during R. V. festivities, for there are flowers of every hue in the rainbow at Bryan Nursery and Floral Co., and they are all as perfect as the divine law which called them into being. Many a lady will find a sweet surprise in the new Co-ed Corsage Shield. These too come in a variety of shades.

IT'S A FACT

That you always get home cooking at Long's Cafe. This is true when you drop in for a casual lunch, and also when you are served by arrangement in the specially provided Banquet Room. And let me say, that South Texas sunshine on a cold April morning, spreads no greater warmth of cordiality than Mrs. Fairman and Mrs. Nail bestow upon their friends who drop in to call on them and wish them well in their present role as hostesses.

A LAW FOR LUBRICATION

The Sinclair Motor Oil Company has evolved the following law of lubrication: "For every machine, of every degree of wear, there is a scientific Sinclair Oil, to suit its speed and seal its power." At the Home Oil Company, they sell Sinclair Motor Oils, in compliance with this law, which means that your car will be serviced by a man who has acquired a degree of expert efficiency in determining the grade of oil best suited to your car; and he will endeavor to sell you just the right grade, just the right amount, and at the proper time to give your car efficient lubrication and protection. There is a Sinclair Motor Oil that is just what your motor needs to keep it functioning most efficiently.

Since the Parent-Teacher Convention is all over, the greatest question in the minds of Bryan women is: "How can we reduce food costs?" The answer is—buy at the Piggly Wiggly, where nationally advertised brands are placed so you can easily and quickly serve yourself, and where the fresh fruits and vegetables are the best to be found and the prices are always low. Economy is more a matter of what one gets for one's money, than merely what one spends. Try the Piggly Wiggly plan.

Seat covers in closed or open cars not only protect your car and give it a longer term of satisfactory service, but they give it a greater "trade in" value when you are ready for a new one. There is yet another point, the smooth surface of tapestry or denim is much cooler than velvet and mohair. Hy T. Schovajsa has more than one hundred patterns and qualities to choose from, and can match covers to any color scheme. No matter what quality you select your seat covers will be "Tailor Made To Fit."

$49.50 buys a beautiful Living Room Suite at E. F. Parks and Co. The set consists of Settee and two Rockers, and the color combinations would add beauty to most any living room or sun parlor. You will find similar surprising values in every suite carried by Mr. Parks. His long experience in buying and his small floor space give him a low operating expense; and his customers reap the benefit in lower prices on high grade home furnishings. He has rugs, stoves and tapestries as well as complete lines of furniture.

They are adding new numbers in Wayne-Knit Hose at Wilson Bradley's daily. The "Slenderette" Heel, a silk faced hem and a toe feature especially good with low-cut pumps; are some of the things that make this line popular. The new shades include Pearl Blush, White Jade, Honey Beige, Tan and Kasha Beige.

I've made an agreement with "Me and Myself" and some day I mean to own a Buick car. Whether that is soon, or in my ripe old age, I know it means a "Body by Fisher" with every line correct and every accessory in line with the best in motor construction and artistic finish. It means restful, formfitting, comfortable seats; and adjustable features in steering wheel and clutch, designed to eliminate muscle and nerve strain for the driver. The Buick's sealed chassis means absolute protection from dust and water for all working parts. The motor also has ample protection from foreign substances in the air, oil or gas; as each passes through a special filtering process before reaching the motor. Mechanically, the Buick is built right in the beginning and its protective features are among the best known in the automobile world.

Most of my readers will appreciate knowing that one of the most varied and complete gift lines in the city is to be found at Haswell's Book Store. The daintiest of glassware in all the popular designs and pieces, including the new gold encrusted ware, china sets, rare and beautiful in decoration, and any number and variety of odd decorative pieces. A gift from Haswell's will be a gift of character and quality.

The present popularity and sales volume of Coca-Cola is the result of thirty-seven years of growth and improvement in manufacturing and distributing methods. Drinking Coca-Cola might be a habit, but it could scarcely be called a fad after thirty-seven years of continuous and increasing sales. Coca-Cola is sold as a beverage and not as a food; although it is known to contain pure sugar and certain phosphoric compounds very wholesome and highly valuable in food content. Drink it cold from the bottle. Sold and delivered by Stephan Ice Co.

Chamber of Commerce Votes to Tender Banquet to Honor Rating Board, Which Will Visit Allen Academy This Week; C. of C. to Sell Tickets for LaSalle Hotel Opening

The Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce will attempt to run a special train to the East Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Greenville in May. It is planned to run the special train by East Texas, and will ask that every firm in Bryan will send a representative to this convention. If Bryan hopes to secure the 1929 convention, it is necessary to have a large delegation present, according to Chairman D. L. Wilson. The Chamber of Commerce will entertain the U. S. Army Honor Rating Board from the War Department, which will visit Allen Academy this week, with a luncheon Friday, April 27, at the LaSalle Hotel, to which affair the business men of Bryan will be asked to attend and purchase their plates. The foregoing was referred to the Entertainment committee, of which Mrs. Lee J. Rountree is chairman.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Dean F. C. Bolton addressed the meeting, stating that Bryan and College had lost a useful citizen in Dean J. C. Nagle, former member of the Chamber of Commerce. He made a motion that a committee be appointed by the president to draft suitable resolutions. The committee was named, as follows: F. C. Bolton, N. B. Allen, and H. L. Durham.

Secretary S. E. Eberstadt reported that the management of the LaSalle Hotel had requested the Chamber of Commerce to co-operate in the handling and selling of tickets for the formal opening Friday night, April 27. A motion carried that Secretary Eberstadt be instructed to render this assistance, and that the entertainment committee be asked to co-operate. It was found that the hour of meeting, 11 o'clock, was unsatisfactory to many members of the board. Upon motion, the regular hour in the future was changed to 10:30 o'clock.

The following were present: N. B. Allen, R. V. Armstrong, F. C. Bolton, Wilson Bradley, W. H. Cole, H. O. Ferguson, Tyler Haswell, J. Webb Howell, E. J. Jenkins, John M. Lawrence, W. J. McCulloch, J. "I will have a double interest in College and Bryan in the next few years as I am going to send my son, Asa, to A. and M. College. At present he is a member of the Luther Stark Boys' Band Inc., and is looking forward to when he will be a member of the Aggie band," said Mr. Gibbs.

Beason and Spencer Visit Steep Hollow

County Agent C. L. Beason and Don A. Spencer of the U. S. Biological Survey went to the Steep Hollow community Monday to lend assistance in rodent control. Upon visiting the farm of T. E. Bullock they found that salamanders had entered Mr. Bullock's sweet potato bed and carried away some four or five bushels, packing the potatoes away in their dens. Pictures were made of the salamanders runs and dens where the potatoes were stored and traps set to catch the pesky rodents. The salamanders had carried the potatoes from 10 to 30 feet away and carefully stored them for future use. Mr. Bullock's potato bed was practically ruined. This is only one instance of what salamanders are doing for Brazos county farmers. Let's kill them out.

The prize for the best general average was a beautiful gold signet ring and went to Leona Keller. Honor roll: Leona Keller, Reynold France, Walter Keller, Alma Plaggen and Eleanor Plaggen.

CORN NOT DAMAGED

L. B. Scarmado of Bryan Junction was in Bryan today on business. Mr. Scarmado says all the cotton in his community that was up would have to be replanted because of the frost. He thinks, however, all cotton still in the ground was not injured. Corn withstood the cold and will suffer no damage he said.

Many Homes To Be Built Soon

This spring augurs well to be a period of building boom with many new homes to be constructed, according to applications in the Bryan Building and Loan Association office.

More than a dozen local citizens expect to erect homes soon or to make improvements on their property.

The building and loan association has enabled scores of local citizens to have homes of their own, the percentage of home owners here being exceptionally high.

Woman's Missionary Society Of First Methodist Church Used To Be Known As Ladies' Aid Society

Proud and rich in experience is Bryan's Methodist church when she can have one of her very dear gray haired members say "When I was a little girl I used to come to the Missionary Society with my mother." That was back in 1883. At that time this group of women was known as the Ladies Aid Society. The dues were ten cents a month. The purpose was to do good among the members of the church and to help the needy. There were about 20 women in this organization. Women then were not "joiners" as they are now and many good women did not affiliate with the Ladies Aid Society.

Pioneer Members

Some of the pioneers in the women's work were Mrs. F. M. Hall and her two daughters, Mrs. W. H. Webb and Miss Willie Hall, Mrs. Mason Cole, Mrs. J. W. Coulter, Mrs. R. K. Chatham, Mrs. Jim Mitchell, Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. J. N. Cole, Mrs. Walter South, Mrs. D. Mike, Mrs. S. M. Derden, Mrs. Jennie Collins, Mrs. John Chatham, Mrs. George Deaton, Mrs. Wm. Saunders, Mrs. T. P. Wooten, Mrs. E. C. Harder and Mrs. D. A. Lawrence.

The Ladies Aid Society was soon converted into two groups, the Home Missionary Society and the Foreign Missionary Society. The first met every Monday and the second every first Monday. Ten cents a month dues was all that was required. There were no assessments and specials.

Activities Local

The activities of these groups were largely local in scope. Though the spirituality of these early groups was great and blessed, their religious outlook was limited. Foreign missions were opposed by many of the best women.

The preacher and his family were the special wards of these early workers. Frequent poundings kept the pastoral larder full. When solicited for a contribution for a poundings, one lady responded with five gallons of lard, a bushel of sweet potatoes and a ham. This was representative of the generosity of the times.

In addition to helping the preacher the ladies guarded the spiritual life of the children. About fifty years ago the Band of Hope, a temperance society for young people, exhibited and certificates of membership in this society are proud possessions of several of the members of the church today. Over 30 years ago the women of the Missionary Society started the custom of having Easter egg hunts for the little children. Mrs. J. W. Coulter offered her a vacant lot deep in clover, for this purpose and the eggs were boiled in her wash pot. Such pleasures furnished by the church have bound many little hearts to it, and these early ministrations have proved sweet memories for old hearts today.

To Raise Money

There were several methods of gaining money for the work at this time. Suppers were often held in vacant stores in two and sometimes the sale of cakes, baked hams, turkeys, etc., continued for two days. Oysters were fried in wash pots and sold. Much money was gained in this way. Silver teas were held and generous friends dropped quarters in the money plate. Quilts were pieced and quilted by the members and then sold. These sold for two, four and sometimes ten dollars. Baby shows were held by the Ladies' Aid Society and prizes awarded the prettiest babies.

With missionary education in the church came more concentrated effort for foreign mission work. The two societies were united in the first decade of our missionary century. With a broader vision our women had an ever increasing purpose. The group needed more spiritual sight. Prayer came reluctantly from the lips of many of these timid workers. To Mrs. E. L. Shettles the wife of a beloved pastor, belongs much credit for injecting a spirit of concentration and devotion into this group of workers.

Meets Obligations

During the last fifteen years the society has adhered strictly to the program of the Missionary Council. It has never failed to meet its obligations. The present membership is one hundred and twenty-five and this is divided into six groups. The youngest group established in 1926, is composed of young ladies who are being trained in the work and blessed with an opportunity to help.

The Bryan Woman's Missionary Society has a membership of intelligent and talented women. Mrs. J. N. Goodwin and Mrs. O. O. Henderson are Texas Conference officers. Two years ago Bryan was hostess to the Texas Conference Annual Missionary meeting. The society serves monthly banquets to the Wesley Brotherhood. An orphan girl, Jaunita Gomez, is cared for by the society and is being educated at Holding Institute, Laredo, Texas. The past year two thousand dollars was raised through dues, pledges and contributions. This group exceeded its Bennett Memorial subscription. The children's work has been carried on with great success.

Furnish Helpers

The Jubilee missionary pageant has been produced recently. This taught a missionary lesson to Methodists and hundreds of other church friends. This society has never sent out a missionary or a minister but it has furnished

Bryan High School Makes Splendid Record In Various Events Of The Interscholastic League Of Texas

This is the first year that the Bryan public schools have entered all phases of Interscholastic League activities. Our schools entered as three separate schools, namely: East Side Elementary, West Side Elementary, and High School. In the local city-wide meet there were 150 of our students competing to represent our city schools in the county. Thirty-two of them entered into competition with the other schools of the county to determine who should represent Brazos county in the district meet. Bryan is the only Class A school in the county and is not permitted to contest in track and field events with the other schools of the county, but goes directly to the district meet in this phase of League work.

In literary events Bryan won the right to represent Brazos county in the following events: Junior girls declamation, Iola Barron, West Side; junior boys declamation, Wayne Durham, East Side; senior boys declamation, Addison Ainsworth, High School; senior girls declamation, Tiny Ross, High School; senior extemporaneous speaking, Jesse Merle Henry, High School; junior extemporaneous speaking, Louise Dyer, East Side; boys debate, Edwin Hayes, High School; boys debate, Milton Maloney, High School; music memory, Iola Barron, West Side; music memory, Annie Ruth Ware, West Side; senior essay, Margaret Parker, High School; junior essay, Ann Bentley, West Side; junior spelling, Edna Nokes, East Side; junior spelling, Jane Singletary, East Side; senior spelling, Frances Branch; senior spelling, Frances Sloop.

The spelling contests ended with the county meet. Out of the other eight possible events open to Brazos county, Bryan won two first places, one second place, one third place and one fourth place. They are as follows:

Tiny Ross won first place in senior girls declamation and will represent this district (composed of eight counties) in Austin at the state meet in May. There were 16 contestants.

Jesse Merle Henry won first place in extemporaneous speaking and will represent this district at the state meet in Austin in May. There were nine contestants.

Addison Ainsworth won second place in senior boys declamation. He made a most remarkable showing and Bryan is proud of him. There were sixteen contestants.

Wayne Durham won third place in junior boys declamation. He made a good showing and was tied for second place the judges conferring to break the tie. There were sixteen contestants.

Most Valuable Citizen Award Given On Sunday

Bryan's most valuable citizen will be announced Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Palace Theatre prior to the showing of the Woodrow Wilson Memorial picture by the American Legion. The public is cordially invited to attend the exercises. The presentation to the most valuable citizen will be made by Mayor Wilson Bradley.

The Lions Club offers an annual award to the most valuable citizen of Bryan. The one chosen for this honor was adjudged the most valuable citizen in 1927. The selection was made by secret ballot, the judging being done by Mayor Wilson Bradley, J. Webb Howell, president of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce; J. L. Henderson, president of the school board; W. S. Barron, representing the Rotary Club and Ty Cobb from the Lions Club.

Each of the foregoing men will be present at the presentation of the award Sunday.

The decision was practically unanimous, there being no discussion whatever. Each man wrote down his choice for the most valuable citizen and the ballots were read, the election taking place in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Many Interesting Reports Are Made Annual Convention Of The T. F. W. C. At Belton This Week

(BY MRS. M. R. BENTLEY)

Your delegate arrived just in time to be assigned for sleeping quarters and freshen up a bit before going to dinner on the evening of April 2 (Monday). We were assigned to rooms in the dormitories which we shared with the girls students of Baylor Belton, and more charming and attentive hostesses could not have been found anywhere upon any occasion. We were also guests at the tables with the girls and their instructors and chaperones.

It was my introduction to Baylor Belton as a school, and I feel sure that other delegates shared with me a pleasure in being associated with the student body in this delightful manner. Surely, the students of Baylor Belton show in their every day conduct, the very finest of influences, morally and socially and educationally. The atmosphere was one of culture and refinement in every detail.

President's Evening, beginning at 8:15 p. m., was a brilliant affair. Alma Reeves Memorial Chapel proved ideal in every way for such an occasion. The stage with luxuriant fittings and appointments gave a fitting background to District and State officers who appeared on the program. Mrs. Walter T. Garbade, of Galveston, Vice President of District 4, presided in a very graceful and charming manner, and none who spoke to this meeting gave more pleasure to the audience than our own Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, who gave the response to addresses of welcome; and Mrs. M. W. Sims, whose reminiscence of club work in Texas, always proves interesting and entertaining.

Tuesday morning, at 9:20, the convention proper was opened in formal manner. The necessary routine reports of committees and chairmen occupied the first hour of the morning. The importance of sending year books to the District President was stressed; also figures compiled by district chairmen showed that many clubs do not fill out and return questionnaires that are very important in arranging summaries and reports on activities in the District. Some clubs had failed to pay dues to the State Federation, but a relatively small number.

At 10:10 the student body of Baylor Belton filed in and the Convention recessed while the usual Chapel Exercises were conducted. Mrs. R. H. Schwartz, District Chairman of American Home, presented a most interesting and educational exhibit of silhouettes, arranged to be illuminated with tiny electric lights, and emphasizing many of the features stressed in the better homes program being carried on through Extension Service programs and other similar agencies.

In the scheme of home development Mrs. Schwartz gave the Home Altar, with the Bible and religious training, the place of greatest prominence, then came the living room, kitchen, markets, insurance and savings, education, and Parent-Teacher work as a correlation with other community influences. Each feature of the exhibit was unveiled, lighted and displayed at just the appropriate moment in her lecture. Mrs. Schwartz's talk was little short of a sermon in moral value, and delightful indeed from an educational view point. She made a plea for less over-lapping of community influences.

Mrs. Schwartz was followed by Mrs. Howard, of Houston, who spoke briefly on "Modernizing the Home." As a complement to Miss Julia Owen of Navasota, her arrangement and composition of "The Bluebonnet Song" was given by the Temple Ensemble Singers.

Following the reports on different sections of the department of fine arts, all of which were most interesting, Dr. Sherwood of Temple, was introduced, and spoke on practical phase of preventive medicine. Dr. Sherwood asserts that doctors are bending their effort towards the prevention of disease, more than to the cure of bodily ills; and that such practice not only pays as well financially, but brings far greater satisfaction in their profession.

"Women and women's organizations, more than any other agency in local community work, may popularize preventive methods, and bring about the elimination of infectious diseases through vaccination and immunization treatments as well as by proper precautionary measures," said Dr. Sherwood. Water supplies, milk supplies and fly control are three problems of very town and village and should have the attention of club women at all times if cooperation and public education along these lines are to succeed. Typhoid, small pox, diphtheria, malaria, lock jaw, tuberculosis, cancer, and venereal diseases were briefly discussed by Dr. Sherwood from the view point of preventive measures that might be given impetus through women's organizations. Proper diet, and proper care of food supplies for children, was stressed as being of utmost importance in reducing intestinal disorders and mortality among young children. Pure water, clean milk, proper ventilation, proper light and physical education, were enumerated as the essentials for growing children both in the home and in the school room.

Americanization as distinguished from naturalization, was presented by Mrs. Larkin of Galveston. She urged that we go into our foreign homes and Americanize the parents, even as the schools are Americanizing the children, if we wish to make citizens instead of merely voters of our foreign element.

Mrs. E. C. Adams of West spoke on "The Only Club In Town" and in my estimation gave a fine example of the theory that in most instances, one organization, functioning properly and marshalling all available talent effectively, may accomplish more of general community promotion, than many organizations that fail to work harmoniously and without a comprehensive community program.

Many Clubs reported contributions to the schools of their community. A report from Beaumont Department Club pointed out the advantages of this plan for unifying all club activities without losing the advantage of small congenial specialized groups. In the larger group there is more tolerance, while in the smaller group is found the association of those of similar intent and talent.

"Clubs should be training schools to discover new material and ability and the membership should forget self in order to do justice and honor to others." This is possible in the large group more than in the small. Adjournment for lunch. Club reports were taken up again immediately following the lunch hour and the clubs of Houston reported in one group, using an enormous scrap book with one page devoted to each club's report. This was a most interesting way of making a report, and to say the least, clubs reporting in this group were able to make more comprehensive reports than those who came one at a time and with no foundation or connection one with another.

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree spoke on "Legislation and the Influence of the Club Woman Individually As Well as in Groups." Mrs. Christine Carson of Dallas, spoke on "Personality in the Home." She was advertising Texstone as an interior finish and there was some little objection to professional advertisers having a place on the program, but personally I enjoyed her very much. More club reports were given, including clubs from Bryan, and upon adjournment at 5 o'clock, our party hastily packed up and took our leave. By leaving at that hour we missed the delightful ride over Belton and through the scenic region that surrounds this beautiful little city, and also were forced to forego the pleasure of the dinner served at the Park Hotel by the local Chamber of Commerce honoring distinguished guests and delegates but we were four women alone, and though it the part of wisdom to get over as much road by daylight as possible. We arrived in Bryan about 9 p. m.

Report of the Extension Service Club Submitted in Fourth District Convention

The Extension Service Club became identified with the Texas Federation in 1921. Its membership is made up mostly of women whose husbands are state staff employees of the Extension Service Division of A. and M. College, and women who are employed in the Home Demonstration Section of Extension Service.

This gives the club an interest in affairs pertaining to civic and social welfare extending throughout the state, rather than being merely local in its scope of activity. Each year we pursue a literary study that keeps us in touch with contemporary writing, yet ours is not a literary club in the strictest sense of the word. Our initial effort and our chief aim, is neither literary or civic, in fact, but rather to foster good fellowship within our own group, relieving the tedium and loneliness that we often feel when we are away from home and remain at home as all but bread winner to the family. We also sponsor some three or four social affairs each year, which are planned to bring all Extension Service employees and their families together, in order that we may all know each other personally though our paths of life and duty may lead us often in separate ways. We join other Federated Clubs in Brazos county on Travel Study.

We would not, by preference, direct your attention to the very modest accomplishments of our club; but rather we would point you to the great field of activity and accomplishment in which as a group of women our life's interest is invested; yet we have made the trivial contribution of $28 to the Student Loan Fund of A. and M. College; $20 to scholarships for women and girls to the Summer Short Course at A. and M., and $9 to defray expenses of one girl to the Dallas Fair under chaperonage of the Brazos County Home Demonstration Agent.

Extension Service Work, as we know it today is in its 25th year of activity, and we point you proudly to the fact that it had its beginning in Texas. In 1923, a conference was called in Houston, wherein Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, official from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and five men who had been appointed to work with Dr. Knapp in boll weevil eradication work, met together to perfect plans for carrying on the work they had undertaken.

Of this group, J. A. Evans, now connected with the Washington office and W. D. Bentley, vice director of Extension Service in the state of Oklahoma, have held constant connection with Extension Service work as it has grown from its small beginning to be an influence of national importance.

Today, the Extension Service forces of Texas include some thirty odd men and women acting in administrative capacities, and directing specialized instruction designed to assist in the promotion of better farming methods; 165 men agents, to direct the work in individual counties and localities; and 90 women agents who devote their entire time to helping farm women and girls find a better and more satisfactory life amid the trying circumstances that surround many of our rural homes in Texas.

We invite you to inform yourselves concerning what is being done by and through the Extension Service in your own particular locality, as well as to grasp the full significance of the work from a state-wide and national viewpoint. Newspapers and magazines are carrying many interesting stories of Extension Service programs everywhere, and a little visit with the agents in your own county will convince you of your many opportunities to lend assistance either in influence or encouragement to this worthy activity which is doing so much to make "Texas Better For Texans."

Paving Talked At Commission Meeting Friday

The paving on Bryan Avenue and Fifteenth street will be 45 feet wide, with a 15-foot park way in the center, it was decided at Friday night's meeting of the City Commission of Bryan. Cost estimates based on this width will be made and presented at the next meeting of the commission.

Bids were received on paving one block on Twenty-third street, east from Main to the H. & T. C. railroad, a distance of 110 feet. The bids were received from Ole Martinson and Allen Smith. The bid of Mr. Smith was $2.53 per square yard for six inch reinforced concrete, 90 cents per cubic yard for earth excavation and 97 cents per lineal foot for combined curb and gutter. This was the lower bid.

Estimates were presented on several thousands lineal feet of sewerage extension in several different parts of the city. The city manager was instructed to take the necessary steps toward making these improvements.

The following were present: Commissioners Wilson Bradley, D. L. Wilson, Major L. L. McInnis, E. A. Burger, and E. J. Jenkins; City Manager J. Bryan Miller; City Attorney Law Henderson, and City Secretary Guy P. Bittle.

Company 'A' Of Allen Academy Enjoys Banquet

The annual Company "A" banquet of Allen Academy was held Saturday night at the new LaSalle hotel, which was attended by more than 100 cadets. A spirit of splendid fellowship characterized the annual affair.

A. R. Locke of Mexia acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers with wit and humor. Addressers were with William O. Alexander of Gulf, who spoke on "Company Spirit"; A. W. Dawson of Waco on "Our Ambition"; Alfred M. Johnson, who took for his subject, "Greetings of the Band Company," and Roy Jorgenson of San Antonio, who spoke on "Past History of A. Company." Talks also were made by Tom Visor of Houston, Bub McLeod of Houston, Howard Bomar of Gulf, Captain George W. Griner, and Superintendent N. B. Allen. Musical numbers were given by B. N. Blanchette of Beaumont and a quartet composed of Ned Bradley of Marlin, Buster Starnes of Willis Point, Jimmie Clark of Beaumont, and Army Armstrong of Center. Officers of Company "A" are: Alvin Dawson, Waco, commander; Roy Jorgenson, San Antonio, lieutenant; and Horace Bradley, Groveton, first sergeant. The leader of the first platoon is William O. Alexander and of the second platoon is Freeman Pruett of Goose Creek.

The menu was declared to be delicious, and a spirit of levity prevailed throughout the program.

Eberstadt And Beason Talk On Rats At Caldwell

Due to Don A. Spencer being sick in bed, County Agent C. L. Beason and Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt attended the mass meeting at Caldwell Saturday afternoon to explain the plan of the rodent campaign to the Burleson county people. The meeting was held in the splendid court house now nearing completion, and after some discussion it was decided to postpone the rat campaign in Burleson county until the schools again open. There will, however, likely be some work done on the salamander.

Harvey

HARVEY, April 18.—We are glad to see the beautiful sunshine again after a week of cold weather and rain. Farmers are getting ready to replant their cotton.

Miss Pearl Jones of Huntsville came home to spend the week-end. She has entered since Christmas and expects to continue her work during the summer term.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dansby and children of Bryan spent the day Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Peters.

Most of our B. Y. P. U. attended the program at Steep Hollow Sunday afternoon. We enjoyed a good program. There were over 200 present at this meeting. Most of the churches in this part and in the north end of the county were represented. The fifth Sunday in this month there will be another meeting or rather the association B. Y. P. U. of the Brazos Creath Association will meet at College Station. Every member of a B. Y. P. U. in Brazos county is urged to be there as there is a contest on for a banner and Brazos county must get it.

Miss Hazel Kelly of our community is in the contest put on by the Bryan Eagle. She is working and we believe she will soon be riding in one of the cars to be given away.

Our school is progressing nicely. We only wish that we had a 8 months school instead of only 8 months. The school closes April 31. Mr. Pipkin, our principal, expects to enter State University at that time. We wish for him much success in his work and very much hope that he will consider teaching at Harvey another year.

Cherokee Has Definite Program
The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce has the following definite program for 1928: Dairy farming, creamery for Jacksonville, hardsurfaced roads, city hall and municipal auditorium, soil conservation, and continued program of diversified farming. These are worthy goals for any Chamber of Commerce located in the midst of a farming section which offers possibilities for a more prosperous trade territory.

Aid in Dairying
For more than a year Caldwell merchants have been featuring better markets for farm products, such as poultry, poultry products, and dairy products, boosting the price of these products to help the general business of the town. Evidently seeing the good results already coming to Caldwell merchants, the Lions Club of that town distributed seven registered Jersey heifers to Snook boys on Saturday, April 7. It is said that this interest in the dairy business was aroused through the capable leadership of J. D. Martin, principal of the Snook school, who is seeking to relate the work of his school to the economic and social welfare of the people of that community, and to lend cooperation to the Burleson county ten year agricultural program.

Send In Cards
Sterling C. Evans, state club leader, requests that all enrollment cards be sent in at the earliest date possible. Hence all club members who have not filled out their cards are requested to send them in right away to the county agent. The number of delegates to the Dallas Fair will be determined by the enrollment in the county. Let's make it large, boys.

Pecan Budding
The county agent is getting ready preparatory to pecan budding during the next month or two. Among the places scheduled for demonstrations are the following farms: Chas. Merka, J. H. Wehrman, F. W. Locke, Claude

Decoration Day To Be Observed Here April 28

Decoration Day will be observed in Bryan, Sunday, April 28, under the auspices of L. S. Ross Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy.

To thus pay tribute to the memory of the departed heroes of the war of the 60's and also to those who fell in defense of country in the World War, is an annual custom with the U. D. C. All who love the Confederate soldier, and the American soldier of later years will join the local U. D. C. and pause in the midst of these busy days to pay homage to the sacred dead and on this annual decoration day, place a flower of remembrance on the grave of their last resting place.

The general committee from the U. D. C. will be in charge of the Decoration Day program, with a sub-committee from every Sunday School in the city, to enlist the children in taking part in this patriotic service by bringing flowers for the decoration of the graves. All committees, Sunday School children, and all citizens will meet at Carnegie Library Sunday afternoon, April 28 at 5 o'clock from which place the procession will move to the City Cemetery where the decoration service will be held.

Further announcement of arrangements for this Day of Tribute to our departed war heroes will be made next week.

Brazos Schools Given Inspection

G. T. Bludworth, Austin, of the State Department of Education and rural school expert, in company with B. C. Caldwell of Louisiana, representative of the Jeares and Slater funds visited the schools of Brazos county this week. They were accompanied by County Superintendent D. J. McDonald.

They stated that they were well pleased with the equipment and work of the Brazos schools.

Moore, Albert Payne, Ernest Weiser, C. B. McGregor, and others. When these demonstrations are held, you should attend if interested in learning how to bud paper shell varieties onto native trees. Don't expect individual demonstrations.

Rat Campaign
The total rat tails reported for week ending April 14 was more than 11,000, which makes the total for the first two weeks of the campaign around 15,000. As the schools close it is hoped that some one will always be named to continue making reports in order that a correct check may be kept, and in order that schools, as well as individuals, may receive prizes due them. Let everybody get in the game and help kill out the rats. If you do not become interested, then the other fellow will lose interest and the rat campaign will fall short of what it might mean to Brazos county.

Subject to Hazards
Some years ago Dr. W. B. Bizzell in speaking before the Bryan Rotary Club on the subject of agriculture stated that agriculture is subject to more hazards than any other business. The recent cold snap, taking practically a 100 per cent of the cotton planted and doing damage to other crops, is more evidence corroborating Dr. Bizzell's viewpoint, to say the least of it. But we should remember that it is not falling that determines the man, but getting up every time he does fall. The sun will yet shine on a bountiful harvest to him who labors—while he prays.

Plant Exchange
Club girls are conducting a plant exchange in several of the clubs. A member having a superfluity of flower plants of one kind passes them on to fellow workers and in turn receives some other plant. This plan makes possible a variety of flowers for each girl without cost. Members are also being encouraged to grow some of the wild flowers in their yards.

Boys and Girls Club Meet Held at Rye

The boys and girls' club of Rye held an interesting meeting on Tuesday night, club reports, songs, yells, etc., featuring the program. Henry Merka won the prize for the report by group leaders. His report showing that all livestock club members had kept their record up to date, and one boy had sold more than $27 worth of pigs from one litter. County Agent Beason remarked that the judges evidently had in mind I. W. Will's test of club work that its ability to write a check is the test of its success.

A. L. Higgs gave some interesting data on the rat campaign, saying that he had killed 191 rats in one crib and 99 in another. He says that team work is the thing when you are out after rats. All expressed disappointment at the failure of the Rotary club to come and help put on the program. The invitation was extended to the Rotary to meet with the club at its next meeting, the second Tuesday night in May. If the Rotary does not go then, County Agent Beason declares he is going to make no more excuses for them. The Rotary club should remember what disappointment means to them—it's just as bad to rural boys and girls and to men and women.

U., Mrs. P. G. Gunter, "How the B. Y. P. U. Helps Me To Live a Christian," John Sidney Smith; "Some Problems of a B. Y. P. U. and How to Overcome Them," Marie Phillips; "Importance of Developing the Devotional Side of a B. Y. P. U.," Mr. Halbert.

King's Highway

KING'S HIGHWAY, April 18.—The second meeting of the King's Highway community club failed to materialize on Saturday on account of the weather. The boys and girls are keyed up to a high pitch on the rat campaign and poor Mr. and Mrs. Rat are mourning the loss of most of their offspring. Most of the folks of this community attended the singing convention at the new Baptist church at Eton in Robertson county. The Baptists are to be complimented on their fine new church recently completed. Judge Davis made an interesting address, following the sumptuous dinner at one o'clock.

Ehlinger Wins At Brenham Meet

Marquez Ehlinger of A. and M. Consolidated School won the district championship in senior boys' declamation at Brenham, Friday, April 13. There were fourteen contestants in this division. Ehlinger has unusual ability as a declaimer. His poise, inflection, emphasis, rate, phrasing, and personality are excellent. He will go to Austin May 4 to compete with other district winners for state championship.

The girls debating team of Brazos county composed of Lillie Mae Walton and Lillian Gorzycki of A. and M. Consolidated school, showed up exceptionally well in the district meet. They were defeated by the district winners a team from Eagle Lake, by a 2 to 1 decision.

In boys tennis the doubles were played by Frank Watson and Martin Moore of A. and M. Consolidated school. Cantata Completed Here Sunday Night

The choir of the First Christian Church of this city, directed by Mrs. D. C. McIntosh, repeated their Easter Cantata, "The Light from the Tomb", on Sunday evening, April 15th at 8 o'clock. The church auditorium was packed to its capacity to hear the cantata, and the entire service was one of the most beautiful and helpful in every way.

As a prelude to the evening's program, Vergne Adams played a Trumpet solo, which fittingly prepared the hearts of the audience for the ever impressive story of the Crucifixion as it was so beautifully related in the Cantata.

Mrs. McIntosh is most praiseworthy in her efforts to develop a love for good music in this community, and all who listen to renditions given under her direction enjoy them.

Two exquisite baskets of flowers were presented to Mrs. McIntosh at the close of the program by the members of the Christian church in appreciation of her interest and her willing service.
